XIX Meeting of Physics

24th-26th September 2020

The main purpose of this event is to stimulate cooperation between local researchers, students and international guest scientists, some of whom are Peruvians working abroad and willing to contribute to the development of physics in Peru.

Due to the present global delicate situation, this year's edition of the Meeting of Physics will be held 100% in teleconference mode. There will be online real-time presentations of keynote speakers, as well as talks on current research in the areas of theoretical, experimental, computational, applied and educational physics will be presented by local and international scientists. In addition, several MSc students will also present their investigations in electronic poster sessions.

This year, a new topic will be included involving interdisciplinary research related to the covid-19 pandemic.
